7. PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS
 - a. House Party Concert Series: Petty Coat Junction, February 8, 2019, from 7 PM to 10 PM, at the Bel Air Armory, 37 N. Main Street, Bel Air, MD. Hosted by the Bel Air Downtown Alliance. Grab some friends and come down to the Bel Air Armory- a small concert venue, featuring live music, beer and wine (cash bar), and artisan food trucks. Music by: Petty Coat Junction. In the wake of Tom Petty's untimely death in 2017, scores of musicians formed tribute bands to pay homage to his legacy and celebrate his music. Petty Coat Junction is but six more souls who feel indebted to the man for his contributions to American musical culture and who refuse to let him go quietly into that good night. Tickets: www.belairmaryland.org.
 - b. Bound for the line: Harford County and Fugitive Slaves, February 12, 2019, from 12:30 PM to 1:30 PM, at the Harford Historical Society, 143 N. Main St., Bel Air, MD. Learn about Harford's involvement with the Underground Railroad and the local personalities who promoted and benefited from efforts to advance the cause of liberty. Jim Chrismer will be discussing the factors and individuals, within and outside of Harford County, involved with efforts to aid and resist fugitives seeking refuge and assistance in their efforts to escape slavery in the years before the Civil War. Myth and Reality. Non-Members: $5.00 / Members: Free
